Come join us for a lunch meeting at the Livingston restaurant in Midtown! In addition to lunch we will be having a Chocolate Exchange in honor of one of our favorite "holidays" St. Valentine's day! Please bring a box/bag/can/whatever container you wish of your favorite chocolates to the meeting. These can be gourmet chocolates, homemade chocolates or store-bought chocolates just as long as they are made of chocolate and yummy!!! Also please make sure that you bring at least 20 chocolates so that everyone gets to try one! See you there!

Volunteers Needed for Introduce a Girl

Saturday, February 12, 2011

Volunteers are needed for this Saturday's Introduce a Girl to Engineering (hosted by Georgia Institute of Technology's Women in Engineering Program in collaboration with IBM) at Georgia Tech. The event will take place from 10am-2pm, and volunteers can expect to help lead experiments or assist in the program logistics. If you are interested, please contact Georgene Geary ggeary@dot.ga.gov

Region D Conference

March 4-6, 2011

Knoxville, TN

Cost: $100 for Professional SWE Members

If you've never been to a Region D conference, you are really missing out on a very unique networking and learning experience!

Every year approximately 300 attendees from our area of the country attend the conference to build relationships, develop SWE knowledge, and attend interesting programs. This year's theme is "Sustainability: Women Engineering the Future". The conference will focus on all things green! Many members from the Atlanta section attend the conference each year, and we would love to have even more members attend.

PDH hours are offered on Friday (for an additional cost). You can read about this session and all the other programs by visiting the conference website:
